GEORGE S. PATTON
TOP 3 LEGENDARY TACTICAL MOVES

Publishing guide: everything you need to upload the finished video

Thumbnail A: “THREE DAYS” (vidIQ, made in one go: the hook battlefield + a colour portrait; vidIQ score 92; variant B “CUT OFF” scored 91)

1. The finished video

Item	Details
File	Patton-Top3-1080p.mp4 (1920x1080, 30 fps, H.264 + AAC, 1036 MB; -14.0 LUFS, true peak -1.1 dB)
Download	(Gofile link: see chat)
Length	17:16
Voice	Voice A: Kokoro am_michael converted to the owner's voice (reference: the approved voice-A sample)
Music	Kevin MacLeod, 4 tracks, CC BY 4.0, ducked under the voice (locked level 0.08)
Sound effects	The channel's locked kit: Freesound recordings (CC BY / CC0), Mixkit sounds, original effects
Flags	US 48-star flag + German Reich flag (as in the Collins and Gavin videos); Allies blue, Germans red

Chapters

Starts	Chapter
0:00	Intro: The Man Who Saved Bastogne
1:41	Move 1: Avranches and Le Mans (Aug 1944)
6:16	Move 2: The Relief of Bastogne (Dec 1944)
12:04	Move 3: The Rhine at Oppenheim (Mar 1945)
16:27	Legacy

Key frames: the new opening (0:08 to 2:05)

2. Title and thumbnail

Title A (vidIQ title score 86)

George S. Patton's Top 3 Legendary Tactical Moves | The Man Who Saved Bastogne

Title B for the A/B test (vidIQ 87): George S. Patton's Top 3 Legendary Tactical Moves (no subtitle: Tactical Genius's best-performing form). Studio Test & compare can run both titles and both thumbnails.

- Title B (no subtitle) scored 87; title A scored 86. Both clear the 85 rule.

Thumbnail banner texts

A: THREE DAYS: Patton promised Eisenhower the attack on 22 December, three days after the Verdun meeting (verified in Patton's diary; stakes + number, 2 words). B: CUT OFF: the 101st at Bastogne (stakes, 2 words, no context needed; TG type 3). PLAY BALL is not used: it was the code for 7 Nov 1944, not Verdun. Never AMATEURS (Tactical Genius's).

Both thumbnails were generated by vidIQ in one go (owner rule 2026-10-26), with 3 Tactical Genius thumbnails as references; A scores 92 and B 91 on vidIQ. The battlefield is the hook (Bastogne ringed by red German blocks, blue columns and white arrows from Arlon). The portrait is an AI-generated American general in colour, not a photograph of Patton. The AI's map labels BASTOGNE and ARLON were checked: spelling and geography are right.

3. Description (copy and paste)

The first line is the title. Everything after it is the description: ready to paste, with NO links (channel rule). Keep the credit lines: the music, sound and image licences require them.

```
George S. Patton's Top 3 Legendary Tactical Moves | The Man Who Saved Bastogne

In December 1944, Hitler's last great offensive trapped thousands of American paratroopers in the Belgian town of Bastogne. One American general, facing the wrong way, turned his whole army ninety degrees in the middle of a battle and broke through to them in a week.

In this video we break down George S. Patton's three greatest tactical moves: the Third Army's breakout through Avranches and the drive to Le Mans and Argentan in August 1944, where a bottleneck only a few miles long had to carry an army; the relief of Bastogne in December 1944, from the freezing conference room at Verdun to Abrams's dash through Assenois; and the night crossing of the Rhine at Nierstein and Oppenheim on 22-23 March 1945, a day before Montgomery's set-piece assault.
We also cover the Argentan halt, the orders that stopped him, and the Sicily slapping incidents of 1943.

Keep moving, and let the enemy's attack walk into your net. Plan the turn before the order comes.
Strike before they think you can.

Which was his greatest move: 1, 2 or 3? Tell us in the comments, and if someone in your family served in Europe in the Second World War, on either side, tell us their story. We read every one.

CHAPTERS
0:00 Intro: The Man Who Saved Bastogne
1:41 Move 1: Avranches and Le Mans (Aug 1944)
2:18 The Bottleneck at Avranches
3:20 Hitler Strikes at Mortain
4:46 The Argentan Halt and the Falaise Pocket
6:16 Move 2: The Relief of Bastogne (Dec 1944)
7:37 What Would You Do?
8:54 The Attack and 'Nuts'
10:18 The Dash Through Assenois
12:04 Move 3: The Rhine at Oppenheim (Mar 1945)
13:54 The Night Crossing
15:21 Montgomery's Crossing
16:27 Legacy

SOURCES
Martin Blumenson, Breakout and Pursuit (US Army in World War II, Center of Military History, 1961)
Hugh M. Cole, The Ardennes: Battle of the Bulge (US Army in World War II, 1965) and The Lorraine
Campaign (1950)
Charles B. MacDonald, The Last Offensive (US Army in World War II, 1973)
George S. Patton, War As I Knew It (Houghton Mifflin, 1947) and his 1944-45 diaries (Library of Congress)
Omar N. Bradley, A Soldier's Story (1951)
Kevin M. Hymel, Patton's War (University of Missouri Press)

CREDITS
Maps: original animations. Terrain: Mapzen / AWS Terrain Tiles (open data). Rivers traced from the elevation data.

Music by Kevin MacLeod (incompetech.com): "Long Note One", "Wounded", "Long Note Two", "Anguish".
Licensed under Creative Commons: By Attribution 4.0.

Sound effects: "artillery distance" by 2887679652 (CC BY 4.0), "Cannon Artillery distant gunshots" by Aegersum (CC BY 3.0), "Distant explosion" by juskiddink (CC BY 4.0), "Distant explosions" by Kostrava (CC0), via freesound.org. Transition sounds: Mixkit (Mixkit Sound Effects Free License).
Other sound effects: original.

Images and film: US Army Signal Corps, the US National Archives and the Library of Congress (US government works, public domain); further credits for each file: see the list in the project ( CREDITS.md). Flags: drawn from the public-domain designs.

Narration voice: AI-generated. Maps and thumbnail: original animations and AI-generated artwork.
Business enquiries: [email to fill in]

#Patton #WW2 #MilitaryHistory
```

4. Upload settings

Setting	Value
Tags	military history, ww2 documentary, George S. Patton, General Patton, Patton Third Army, Battle of the Bulge, Bastogne, relief of Bastogne, Avranches breakout, Falaise pocket, Rhine crossing, Oppenheim, Third Army, 4th Armored Division, McAuliffe, Abrams, animated battle map, greatest military tactics, world war 2 animated history
Category	Education
Audience	Not made for kids
Language / captions	English; let YouTube auto-caption, then check the names (Patton, Bastogne, McAuliffe, Avranches, Pontaubault, Le Mans, Argentan, Falaise, Assenois, Nierstein, Oppenheim)
Altered or synthetic content	Yes: the narration is an AI voice and the thumbnail is AI-generated. Tick the disclosure box.
Chapters	Automatic from the description (first chapter is 0:00)
Pinned comment	Which was Patton's greatest move: 1, 2 or 3? And if someone in your family served in Europe in WWII, tell us their story.
End screen	One related video (e.g. the Collins video) + subscribe, over the last ~20 s
Schedule	Your audience's peak time (YouTube Studio > Analytics > Audience)

Upload checklist

- Play the 1080p master through once (sound, sync, no black frames).
- Upload the master.
- Paste title, description and tags; upload thumbnail A (1280x720).
- Fill in the business email in the description.
- Tick 'altered or synthetic content'.
- Add end screen (one related video + subscribe) and cards; set visibility and schedule.
- After 24-48 h: check click-through rate and 30-second retention; if CTR is under 2% after ~1,000 impressions, switch to the alternative thumbnail.

Facts to double-check before publishing (research/FACT_NOTES.md and FACTCHECK_A/B/C: the official histories and Patton's diary were read; Bradley, Codman, Atkinson and the Third Army after-action report were not reachable):
• “Three days” / 22 December is from Patton's diary and Cole; the “48 hours” claim is NOT used. The Eisenhower “Don't be fatuous” line is only reported by secondary sources (the narration says “reportedly”).
• Not used because unsourced: Third Army's August totals, the 133,178-vehicle figure, “Play ball” at Verdun, the “Paris” quote, 1,900 prisoners at Oppenheim, Patton directing traffic at Avranches.
• Argentan halt: Bradley's order (13 Aug); Patton called it “a great mistake” (War As I Knew It). The 50,000 prisoners / 10,000 dead are Blumenson's Falaise figures.
• Assenois: 13 batteries, 10 volleys (Cole); Boggess met the 326th Engineers at 16:50, Abrams met McAuliffe about 20 minutes later. Casualty figures for Bastogne are not stated.
• Oppenheim: first boats at Nierstein about 22:30 (MacDonald); 11th Infantry 20 casualties, Patton's tally 28; planes: Patton claimed 33, the official count 19. Varsity: 17th Airborne day-one figures from MacDonald.
• Patton's 24 March words are from his diary (“to take a piss ... in the Rhine”, “in emulation of William the Conqueror”).
• Commander badges: real PD photos for Patton, McAuliffe, Bradley, Collins, Montgomery, Haislip, Middleton and Abrams; initials for Eisenhower, Eddy, von Kluge and Felber (downloads were blocked). Front lines are drawn by hand (accurate to about 3-5 km). Move-end archive blocks were not added.